• Buckley, Colleen.; Sponaugle, Kim. Grandma Kathy Has Cancer. Indianapolis, IN, Dog Ear Publishing, 2007. A picture book for children that draws upon real life episodes between a grandmother who has cancer and her granddaughter.

• Clark, Julie Aigner. You are the Best Medicine. New York, NY: Balzer & Bray, 2010. This book delivers a soothing message from a mother with cancer to her young daughter. Reassuring and tactful, it affirms that love and kindness are the best medicine for anyone who is ill.

• Filigenzi, Courtney. Let My Colors Out. Atlanta, GA: American Cancer Society, 2009. This book helps children cope with the range of emotions following a parent’s cancer diagnosis.

• Frahm, Amelia. Tickles Tabitha's Cancer - Tankerous Mommy. Hutchinson, MN: Nutcracker Publishing Company, 2001. Told through the eyes of Tabitha, a young girl, this is the story of a family in which the mother is being treated for breast cancer.

• Greenfield, Nancy Rueben. When Mommy Had a Mastectomy. Silver Spring, MD: Bartleby Press, 2005. This book helps to explain breast cancer and mastectomy simply and sensitively for the very young child.

• Makekau, Maryann. When Your Mom Has Cancer: Helping Children Cope at Home and Beyond. Makekau, 2010. This book is an excellent resource to help explain breast cancer to their children in such a way that they not only understand cancer but can also approach the subject with less fear and anxiety.

• Makekau, Maryann. When Your Teacher Has Cancer: Coping in the Classroom and Beyond. Makekau, 2009. This book explains to a young child what cancer is and what is happening while their teacher is being treated.

• Moore-Mallinos, Jennifer. Mom Has Cancer! Hauppauge, NY: Barron's Educational Series, 2008. This book focuses on a young boy's anxiety prior to learning his mother's cancer diagnosis and his ability to adapt once provided with honest information and reassurance.

• Nilon, Cathy. Chemo Cat. Edmonds, WA: Ravenna Press, 2007. This book is about a young child whose mother is going through cancer treatment and
• Perry, Hannah. A New Hat for Mommy: Helping Children Express Their Concerns on Cancer. Charleston, SC: BookSurge, 2005. This book is about a young girl whose mother has cancer. It asks questions along the way to encourage children to talk about their feelings in a relaxed manner.

• Schick, Eleanor. When Mama Wore a Hat. Wyeth Pharmaceuticals, 2007. Two children see the effects of their mother’s chemotherapy after they learn she has cancer.

• Sutherland, Eileen. Mom and the Polka-Dot Boo-Boo. Atlanta, GA: American Cancer Society, 2007. This book helps families talk about breast cancer, gently preparing children for what lies ahead following their mother’s diagnosis.

• Thomas, Christine. Can I Catch Cancer? Brittany’s Books, 2007. This book explains cancer in terms and illustrations a child can relate to. Gently and playfully guides the reader through the process of a cell to a tumor.

• Tinkham, Kelly A. Hair for Mama. New York, NY: Dial Press, 2007. When Marcus's mother has chemotherapy for her cancer and loses her hair, he tries to find new hair for her.

Ages 6-10

• Fead, Beverley Hyman. Nana, What’s Cancer? Atlanta, GA: American Cancer Society, 2009. Nana answers 10 year old Tessa’s questions about cancer. Nana’s answers are designed to both ease children’s fears and provide them with factual information.

• Matthies, Janna. The Goodbye Cancer Garden. Chicago, IL: Albert Whitman, 2011. This book is based on the true experiences of a family’s journey through breast cancer treatment and recovery.

• McVicker, Ellen.; Hersh, Nanci. Butterfly Kisses and Wishes on Wings : When Someone You Love Has Cancer-- A Hopeful, Helpful Book for Kids. [S.l.: s.n.], 2006. This book is about a Mom with breast cancer. The story is told through the eyes of a child and lends itself to a simple and clear understanding of cancer.

• Ries, Lori. Punk Wig. Honesdone, PA: Boyds Mills Press, 2008. A serious illness is given a lighthearted and encouraging treatment as a young boy relates how his mother is undergoing chemotherapy for cancer.
- Speltz, Ann. The Year My Mother was Bald. Washington, DC: Magination Press, 2003. An 8 year old girl keeps a journal that describes the medical treatments her mother undergoes for breast cancer, her family's experiences, and her own feelings and concerns.

- Silver, Alex. Our Mom is Getting Better and Our Dad is Getting Better. Atlanta, Ga.: American Cancer Society, 2007. These books focus on a parent recovering from cancer. The children in the book celebrate the milestones their family has reached and reflect on the different ways their parent’s illness, treatment, and recovery impacted their lives.

Pre-teens

Teenagers

- Cheng, Andrea. Brushing Mom’s Hair. Wordsong, 2008. This collection of poems tells the story of a 15 year old girl during her mother’s diagnosis and treatment for breast cancer.

- Gillie, Oliver. Just the Facts: Cancer. Heinemann Library, 2004. This book provides an overview of cancer, describing what it is, what the various forms are that it takes, what it is like to live with this disease, and some of the available treatments.

• Silver, Maya. My Parent Has Cancer and It Really Sucks. Napierville, IL: Sourcebooks Fire, 2013. Author Maya Silver was 15 when her mom was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2001. She and her dad, Marc, have combined their family's personal experience with advice from dozens of medical professionals and real stories from 100 teens.
